Agro-tourism in Nepal : Agro farm stay in Nepal, Kakani organic farm retreat

Agro tourism in Nepal is focuses on local farming, foods, handicrafts, immersing in the rural experience through Farm or home stays and support small rural businesses.

Although Nepal's economy is based on agriculture farmers in Nepal are not so pleased with their income, as it encompasses uncertainty of weather and market place for their products despite the labor they put in. If we can link agro and tourism together then it may benefit the farmers as well as an experiential tourism for visitors. Tourist can volunteer to work with farmers. The potential of agro tourism is very high in Nepal as you can stay with farmers in the Farmstay or home stay and work in field while eating delicious meals fresh from farm.
